

2024 Metro Council Urban Growth Management Decision: Draft work program summary

Regional readiness for population, housing, and job growth

The Metro Council is required under state law to adopt – by the end of 2024 – an assessment of the region’s capacity to accommodate the next twenty years of housing and job growth inside the urban growth boundary (UGB). This work program summary outlines the proposed process that will lead to the Council’s decision, focusing on how the Metro Council and its advisory committees will be engaged.

Metro seeks to improve its growth management practices every time it undertakes this cyclical process. As always, Metro will strive to improve the data analysis that informs decision makers. Likewise, Metro will continue its emphasis on land readiness to ensure that decisions emphasize the governance, market, and infrastructure conditions that must be present to produce housing and jobs. This process will differ from past decisions by applying a greater focus on the housing needs of all income groups, particularly households with lower incomes. This focus on affordability advances shared goals of increasing housing production for those that have the fewest choices.

This proposed work program also describes how this process will identify land use, housing and employment policy topics that deserve additional consideration in a subsequent refresh of the region’s 2040 Growth Concept or through other programs. Those topics will include climate change, racial equity, and ways of diversifying the set of stakeholders that are engaged.

DISCUSSION DRAFT

Process overview

Council roles

Leading up to the Council’s decision in late 2024, policy makers will engage in discussions of a variety of growth and development trends as well as reviewing any UGB expansion proposals submitted by cities. Policy maker discussions will focus on development readiness, additional actions that may be needed to increase housing production and economic growth inside existing urban areas, and specific city proposals for addressing housing and employment needs in UGB expansion areas. Metro Councilors may wish to engage directly with their local elected counterparts throughout this process.

Advisory committee roles

The Metro Policy Advisory Committee (MPAC) will be engaged in policy discussions like those that the Council engages in throughout the process. MPAC will be asked for its advice to the Metro Council in late summer 2024. MPAC’s advice will focus on policy options for increasing the region’s readiness for housing and employment growth and the merits of any city proposals for handling some of that growth through concept planned UGB expansions.

The Metro Technical Advisory Committee (MTAC) will provide advice on technical aspects as needed. Local jurisdiction staff review of the buildable land inventory will be essential and it is likely that Metro will reconvene the ad-hoc Land Use Technical Advisory Group, which has overlap with MTAC membership for this purpose. MTAC will also be asked to review of any city proposals for UGB expansions. Lastly, MPAC may request MTAC’s technical advice on topics.

Metro’s Committee on Racial Equity (CORE) will be briefed on this work program and their advice will be sought on the formation of a diverse youth cohort to both learn about and advise on Metro’s growth management approach. After an initial discussion with CORE, staff will identify the appropriate timing of further engagement with the committee over the course of this work program.

DISCUSSION DRAFT

Staff roles

Staff will manage the work program to meet deadlines and facilitate advisory committee discussions and Council decision making. Staff will also undertake the legal, communications, engagement and technical work needed to support Council decision making. Metro will build on its long-standing expertise in spatial, housing, and economic analysis and research by continuously improving its work to support decision making. Peer review and local jurisdiction staff engagement will help to ensure the validity of these analyses. Aspects of these analyses will be brought forward to inform policy discussions throughout 2023 and 2024 and will be incorporated into the 2024 Urban Growth Report (UGR).

Local jurisdiction roles

As described in this work program summary, staff proposes that this process is centered on city readiness. As such, there will be a heavy emphasis on the merits of city proposals for concept planned UGB expansions. Cities will be responsible for leading local engagement on concept planning Urban Reserve areas. Local jurisdiction staff will also have opportunities to provide peer review of the buildable land inventory and advice through MTAC.

A new urban growth group

In the 2018 growth management decision, Metro convened a City Readiness Advisory Group (CRAG) that included developers, advocacy groups, affordable housing providers, community organizations, and park district staff. The group was charged with reviewing city proposals for UGB expansions, providing their insight on the readiness of these cities to accommodate growth in an equitable, climate-friendly fashion.

For the 2024 decision, staff proposes convening a similar group, but with an expanded, more diverse composition and role. In addition to reviewing any city proposals for residential UGB expansions, this group would also be asked to provide insight on the partnerships, policies, and programs needed to further advance the region's readiness for growth and address topics such as revitalizing downtowns, encouraging mid and high-rise housing production in mixed-use centers, encouraging middle housing in neighborhoods, and enhancing affordability. The group would do so through the lens of equity and climate change.

For several growth management decision cycles, Metro has participated in updates of the Regional Industrial Site Readiness Inventory. Recent discussions at the governor's Semiconductor Taskforce have again affirmed the need to address the readiness of industrial lands to attract high-tech manufacturers. For the 2024 urban growth management decision, staff proposes asking this group to review any city proposals for UGB expansions for employment uses. The group would be asked for its assessment of the readiness of proposed expansion areas, the likelihood that the area would develop, and possible economic and equity benefits.

To facilitate this group's discussions, staff will convene the group throughout this process, bringing forward summaries of ongoing work around growth trends and other relevant topics. Lastly, the group would be asked to provide its advice on these topics as a way of identifying potential focus areas for a subsequent refresh of the 2040 Growth Concept.

Technical peer review groups

Several technical peer review groups will be engaged in the development of the 2024 UGR. Those will include:

DISCUSSION DRAFT

- Regional Forecast: a peer review group consisting of economists and demographers will review regional forecast methods and results.
- Buildable land inventory: the Land Use Technical Advisory Group, consisting of local jurisdiction planning staff and other development specialists will review buildable land inventory methods and results. The draft inventory will also be made available for review by all local jurisdictions.

2024 Urban Growth Management decision approach

Staff proposes the following approach to the 2024 UGR and growth management decision.

- Focus policy discussions on the readiness of cities to urbanize possible expansion areas (concept planned Urban Reserves).
- The draft UGR that staff will release in the summer of 2024 will not be a conclusive determination of regional need for land. The draft UGR will provide high quality, peer-reviewed analysis that will serve as a decision support tool for policy makers that will:
  - As a best practice, use a range forecast to recognize uncertainty about the amount of future population, household, and job growth.
  - Recognize uncertainty regarding the capacity of land inside the UGB to accommodate growth, particularly related to newly allowed “middle” housing types.
  - Differentiate between housing needs and land needs.
  - Differentiate between employment growth forecasts and economic development aspirations and their implications for regional land needs.
  - Seek to understand changes in housing and employment trends that are under way or that have accelerated during the pandemic.
  - Provide information about how various housing types can address the needs of different income groups.
  - Address newer statutory requirements such as estimating not just future, but existing housing needs.
  - Summarize the possible housing production or economic impacts of any city-proposed UGB expansions.
- Determinations of need for UGB expansions will be a result of Council direction, informed by the UGR.
- The Council’s decision would include setting regional housing production targets (for the region, by income group, not by jurisdiction). Those regional targets could serve as the basis for a subsequent Regional Housing Coordination Strategy that would be led by Metro’s Housing Department in coordination with Planning, Development and Research. A requirement for Metro to produce a Housing Coordination Strategy is pending legislation in the 2023 session.

Timeline overview (subject to change)

The timeline below emphasizes engagement of Metro advisory committees, ad-hoc advisory groups, and known stakeholder groups. Staff will develop a more detailed public involvement plan in the coming months. That public involvement plan will likely focus around any proposed UGB expansion areas since experience indicates that’s what the public is most interested in. We also expect to hear ideas from the public about topics to address in a refresh of the 2040 Growth Concept.
