

Special Presentation to Council		ncil Minutes	March 14, 2019
11:40 a.m.	Welcome
		Metro President Peterson called the group to order
	Present:	Councilor Sam Chase, Councilor Shirley Craddick, Counci Craig Dirksen, Councilor Bob Stacey, Councilor Juan Carl Gonzalez, Councilor Christine Lewis, and Council Preside Lynn Peterson	OS
		Council President Peterson called on Mr. Dave Metz from research firm Fairbank, Maslin, Maullin, Metz & Associat recent survey results with the Council.
11:45 a.m.	Presentation of survey findings
		Mr. Metz presented data and findings from 600 intervie 2019 voters in the Metro service area conducted during 2019, via landline and cell phones.
		Overarching conclusions include general support for wat conservation, and wildlife habitat protection. The most themes stress the value of natural area protection and v region grows and changes. Voters broadly value having home, and they want to preserve those opportunities for	powerful message vater quality as the natural areas close to
12:25 p.m.	Questions and	Questions and discussion
		Following the presentation Mr. Metz called for question to the key findings of the research. Factual clarifications context for verbatim survey responses, and explanation nature support over the last three years.	were requested, further

Councilor Craddick asked how these findings fit into previous research. Mr. Metz responded that it is consistent with prior surveys. Councilor Gonzalez referred to a recent workshop on the Race Class Narrative from Demos. He asked about best practices for gathering data and leading strategies for talking about race in public opinion research. Mr. Metz discussed the ways in which FM3 is adapting to current best practices. Councilors Chase and Dirksen asked if national trends have any noticeable impact on local trends and research. Mr. Metz responded that it is unclear from a statistical standpoint.

12:35 p.m.	Next Steps
		Metro Project Manager Heather Nelson Kent shared upcoming Metro Council engagements leading up to a potential referral to the ballot in May 2019 including a parks and nature presentation at a Metro Council Work Session on Tuesday, March 19, 2019 on current activities.

12:45 p.m. Adjourn